

Pull Out Your “Attic Art” ...

We all have it—whether it is stashed in an attic, basement, Spare bedroom or closet—artwork that for one reason or another no longer has a place on our walls. Maybe you inherited it or received it as a gift from someone with different taste, or you just outgrew something that once appealed to you.

We have the perfect opportunity for you to put it to good use and get out of your way (and don't we all want to de-clutter?). Pull those unused pictures and decorative objects out and donate them to the Arts Council's “Attic Art Sale,” planned for Saturday, May 16 during the Great US Rt. 50 Yard Sale. Proceeds will help the Arts Council support the costs of using The Bottling Works facility for our events (Yes, even the Loy Foundation has to pay utility bills, and they have gone up and up!)

You can bring it to the Visitor Center at The Bottling Works or call Shari Gallery at 304-496-8201 or e-mail performances@hampshirearts.org to make arrangements for pick up. A receipt for tax purposes can be provided if you assign a value and leave name, address & phone info with your donation.

(Volunteers to help with the sale--either preparing for it or staffing it that day--are welcomed as well.)
